BS EN 1276

BS EN 1276 is a strict test of chemical disinfectants and antiseptics. BS EN 1276 is an internationally used test for the evaluation of bactericidal activity of chemical disinfectants and antiseptics used in food, industrial, domestic, and institutional areas.

The Steri-Solv range of products have all been tested and meet the BS EN 1276 requirements.

Steri-Solv Kills E Coli, MRSA, Pseudomonas Aeruginosa, Enterococcus Hirae and all Gram Positive and Gram Negative bacteria. Steri-Solv also has a powerful cleaning action against spore forming bacteria including Clostridium Difficile.

The capital Housekeeper Range

The Capital range of Housekeeper products come highly recommended to meet all daily cleaning needs even in the most demanding of environments. The colour coding of labels makes it especially easy to identify where each product is used. Many of the trigger sprays can be refilled from a 5 litre bottle for economy and the elimination of incorrect dilution.

TAKE FULL CONTROL OF YOUR SITE

The Cleanroom Production area (ISO 4-6)

Validated and contamination controlled on air, surfaces and personnel.

The Controlled Environment The Production area (ISO 8-9)

Controlled Environment areas also include the entrance zone. Surrounding environments impact the cleanliness of the cleanroom, however, well designed surroundings with established protocols can prevent up to 80% of contaminants from entering the cleanroom.

The Personnel The Entrance/Gowning room (ISO 6-8)

Gowning area to eliminate personnel as potential source of contamination before entering production area. Set the contamination pick up by cleaning as close to zero as possible, already in this area.

Ergonomical Aspects

Do you have one system for floor, wall and ceiling cleaning, or even for all controlled environments?

How often are your operators dipping and wringing per task or per cleanroom?

Do they have lightweight telescopic handles to perform wall/ceiling cleaning?

How does Dry Steam work?

Dry steam vapour penetrates surfaces on contact without causing any damage to the surface being cleaned. It reaches into all cracks and crevices and the areas hard to reach by more traditional cleaning methods. The heat saponifies grease and grime making them ready for removal which is generally achieved via micro fibre and/or the use of an inbuilt vacuum system.
